

What Is Daniel's Law?

Daniel's Law is a New Jersey statute that provides a means for certain public servants to request the redaction of their residence information from certain public-facing state, county, and municipal websites. The Office of Information Privacy (known as "OIP") was created by this law to establish a secure portal for these public servants to apply for redaction protections.

Who Is Eligible?

- Active, inactive, and retired federal and state judges
- Prosecutors
- Law enforcement

Daniel's Law refers to them as "Covered Persons."

Who Are Household Members?

- Spouse or partner
- Children
- Other family members or persons residing in the same household as the Covered Person

Household members will be added to a Covered Person's application at Step 2 and do not need to have their own application.

Application Process

Who Should File An Application?

A Covered Person can file for themselves. Once approved, they can provide their residence information and the names of the household members who live there.

What You Need To Apply

A myNewJersey account is required to apply. This User ID and password are necessary to set up an account in the Daniel's Law system.

If you are a member of a New Jersey State Pension Plan, you will also need your Pension ID number for validation purposes. If you do not belong to such a plan, you should upload your employment ID (photo of ID badge, retention letter, etc.) to share with the OIP.

Where To Apply

- Visit: <https://danielslaw.nj.gov> to begin the Two-Step Process.
- Click "Register for a Daniel's Law Account."
- Enter the required information and click "Register Account."
- When asked "Do you have a myNewJersey Logon ID?" Select "Yes" or "No" and proceed accordingly. If you don't have one, the system will help you create one.
- Once your myNewJersey account and your Daniel's Law account are linked, return to the Daniel's Law Portal to complete the process.
- When you return to the Portal, sign in and click "Create Request."
- Follow the steps set out in the Step One Questionnaire.

The Two-Step Process

1. Create your request and submit the Step One Questionnaire through the OIP Portal. Wait for an electronic response to the email address you provided.
2. Once you receive an approval message, return to your account, provide residence and household member information and submit the request.

If you receive a request for more information, please provide it. If you are denied approval, you can contact the Office of Information Privacy for reconsideration.
